

10 February 2022

Dear Parents/Carers of year 13 Students

I am writing to you to make you aware of the most recent information that examination boards have released to support students sitting A-level examinations in the summer of 2022. Please also refer to our website for Academic support on exams 2022.

Earlier in the academic year, OFQUAL stated that all exam boards should provide students with advance information of the content that would be covered in the summer series of exams by no later than 7th February.

On Monday this information was released, and as a college we will be sharing this with all students and parents/carers to allow them to prepare as best as they can.

This information is available on the college website and on the reverse of this letter, and contains further links to the appropriate exam board documents.

At this stage I would like to assure you that we will still be delivering a broad curriculum in all subjects, ensuring that all students have the knowledge and skills required to progress to the next stages of their academic journey, whilst ensuring that the advanced information provided is used to support students in the way that it is intended.

As always, if you have any questions relating to the information that has been provided, or indeed any questions relating to the summer examination series then please do not hesitate to get in contact with me.

Yours sincerely

Mr M Hambrook
